Dear Manny,

Your misfortune was not difficult to figure out. I am sorry about it. I am also sorry that you felt you couldn't trust me with the knowledge because it wasted much time for me that I do not have before I went to New York and much when I was there that I needed for other things.

Before I left New York I spoke to one of your associates. I asked that the entire file be sent to Dick Gallen. This gentleman assured me it would be done as soon as you returned to the office after the loss you had just suffered.

I have just heard from Dick. He has not received it. I do hope you will find some secure way of getting all of it to him. Please don't forget the marked-up copy of the books.

He has just moved his office. His new address is 14 E 60 St.,10022.

I hope you pull through the difficult period well.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
